My Word!
Dorothy Spreiter

ALAMEDA COUNTY MAYORS return to Albany and Golden Gate Fields today. Some will have a good—or bad—day at the races before their monthly meeting, social hour and dinner. Welcome back!

I SPENT THE long weekend painting, scrubbing, upholstering and fencing (not with swords). Ralph and Shirley Jensen stopped by Monday afternoon and he needed a road map to get from the front of the house to the back. He was sure there would never be a path through the place again, but within three hours (right on MY time schedule), everything I'd hoped to complete was finished. Time will take care of a black and blue toe, the dots on redwood and white paint on arms and legs, and the aching muscles.

LAST WEEK in this column we tried to find "a needle in a haystack" for the Blombergs. By Wednesday evening, the long-lost Mr. Stenman was on the phone and by Thursday he was in touch with Mrs. Blomberg. They had moved to Walnut Creek about five and a half years ago from Peralta Ave. (it was 1041, not 1040). He works in Berkeley and reported that Wednesday afternoon he had received all kinds of telephone calls from people who told him "the Times is looking for you."

Leslie Anne Ross Chosen 'Maid of Albany' for 1971

Miss Ross will travel to Hollywood along with other winners in the various city contests on June 23 and 24 before entering the County contest June 27 at the Alameda County Fairgrounds. She also receives a $350 scholarship and over $500 in cash and prizes.

Order of the Golden Rule Nominated for Award

The Order of the Golden Rule, a non-profit organization of funeral directors, has been nominated to receive a Freedoms Foundation Award. Reason for the nomination is the Order's introduction of a patriotic flag promotion nation-wide.

Ellis-Olson Mortuary is the Order's member in Albany, El Cerrito and Berkeley and sponsored the flag promotion locally. Yvonne A. Walkup, president of the firm, states that over 10,000 requests for plastic lapel pins of the American Flag and for a booklet concerning the history and proper display of "Old Glory" have been received from area residents.

Nomination for the award was made by Mayor Nelson O. Howarth of Springfield, Illinois, which is the city where the Order of the Golden Rule's headquarters is located.

In his letter to the Freedoms Foundation, Mayor Howarth said:

"I call to your attention, by means of the enclosures, a tremendous patriotic effort currently being made by a trade association headquarted in this community, the Order of the Golden Rule. The Order is an association of funeral directors represented in over 1,400 communities all over the United States. They have banded together to promote the very highest standards in funeral service.

"Several hundred members have participated in the distribution of the booklet, 'A Symbol of Pride,' and more begin to do so daily. Since the inception of the program in the spring of 1970, over 300,000 booklets have been distributed, and nearly a million American Flag lapel pins have been given out by Golden Rule members. Some of the enclosures will illustrate a bit of the public reaction to the program. The members report virtually no adverse comments, and feel this indicates a reservoir of patriotism among the American people that simply needs, now and then, to be called forth.

"As Mayor of Springfield, Illinois, an All-American City, I feel it is fitting that I nominate for a Freedoms Foundation Award the Order of the Golden Rule — for their efforts in maintaining an All-American patriotic program which has had tangible results."

The Ellis-Olson Mortuary has a new supply of the booklets and pins, which are free.

YWCA To Hold Household Sale

The University YWCA's annual Household Sale date is late September but now is the time that makes it possible.

The Household Sale serves two essential purposes. Students can buy urgent housekeeping necessities for very little and the proceeds help to finance the Y-House program. This is a United Bay Area Crusade Agency, and contributions are tax deductible.

Any usable household discards are welcome. Students always need small electrical appliances, bookcases, desks, tables, chairs, chest-of-drawers, baby furniture, lamps and beds. Flatware, bedding, china, and linens are staple items. Books and plants have proved attractive. Cooking utensils, of course, are important.

With rearranging and refurbishing, or gathering up after a garage sale or redecorating, please remember Y-House. Contributions should be brought to the building, 2600 Bancroft Way, Berkeley, from 9 until 5 Monday through Friday. For information or help in collection, please phone 848-6370.

Through the programs channelled through the University YWCA at least 600 students a year give many hours as volunteers in many areas of service in Albany, Berkeley, Oakland, and Richmond. It takes a lot of donations to help the budget and serve the students.

Joe Jeans Participates At Washington, D.C. Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Jeans, of the Jeans Realty at 1484 Solano Avenue, Albany, participated in the first national convention in the 28-year old history of the National Federation of Independent Business in Washington, D.C., May 16 through 19.

Around 1,500 independent businessmen from all 50 states participated in the three days of sessions held under the title of "Independent Business Speaks Out," coinciding with National Small Business Week proclaimed by President Richard Nixon.

All the participants brought to the Washington conference for discussion with government policy makers the problems of independent enterprise in their respective localities to formulate a course of action to solve these problems.

Unlike most of the independent businessmen, Mr. Jeans feels the young men of today do have the same opportunities to start their own business as he had. He further feels most needed reforms that would help the small and independent businessmen would be the reduction in governmental paperwork, reduction in errors and ommissions awards of the courts and less governmental partnership.

Mrs. Jeans is the present Director of Berkeley Board of Realtors.

William Trathen Adopts Filipino Boy Under Foster Parents Plan

William R. Trathen, a resident of Albany, has "adopted" Isagani R. De Asis, a 14-year-old boy of the Philippines.

By contributing $16 a month through Foster Parents Plan, Inc., Mr. Trathen gives the child and the family material and financial aid aimed at strengthening the family unit by helping each member. The child is symbolic of aid given to the entire family.

Before Mr. Trathen became Isagani's Foster Parent the family struggled to survive on $1.54 a working day earned by mother in a factory. This is on a rotation basis. There are seven members in the family. With PLAN'S help they were able to build a small hut with second-hand wood and iron sheets, on squatters land. Kerosene lamp is used for light, and water is brought in from a well. It is furnished with a table and some chairs, and a wardrobe.

AC TRANSIT TO ADD THIRTY NEW BUSSES

AC Transit will have 30 new buses—as well as one of the cleanest burning bus fleets in the nation—as result of a new government grant.

The grant from the U.S. Department of Transportation allocates $708,635 to the transit property, according to Congressman George P. Miller (D) of Alameda.

The report was passed along to the AC Transit board of directors at a meeting this month by Alan L. Bingham, general manager. The grant covers half of project costs totaling $1,417,270. It can be expanded to include another $223,211 when regional planning requirements for this area are met, under government regulations.

The application not only covers purchase of an additional 30 buses, but was modified earlier this year to cover costs of converting the bus system's basic fleet of 462 coaches to a new improved fuel injector.

The project will make AC Transit one of the first systems in the transit industry to take such extensive measures to minimize smoke, odor and exhaust emissions.

The new fuel injector, coupled with the use of high grade diesel fuel, a rigid preventive maintenance program, proper engine speeds at times of transmission shifts, plus frequent check of timing, will significantly reduce smoke, odor and emissions.

The newly designed injector reduces the residual volume of fuel left to leak into the combustion chamber late in the combustion cycle, Bingham told directors.

Purchase of the additional buses will permit the district to keep up with equipment needs to meet patronage and to provide for future operation of feeder service to BART stations.

Arneson-Burke Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burke

Northbrae Community Church was the setting for the marriage of Kathleen Joan Arneson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Arneson of Albany, to Richard William Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Burke of Richmond.

The bride, escorted down the aisle by her father, wore a full length Victorian gown of sate de peau, accented with chantilly lace flowers, seed pearls forming the flower stems. A bouffant shoulder length veil illusion was held in place by contoured Venice lace with a seed pearl tiara.

Her matron of honor was Rose Burns and her bridesmaids were Ann Arneson, Sue Brownell, Linda Parsley, and Jeannette Salinas. They wore floor length dresses of hot pink chiffon with softly gathered skirts topped by fitted bodices with scoop necklines and long puffed sleeves. Matching Venice lace in a trellis design covered the bodices and cuffed the sleeves.

Flower girl was Karen Bray, and ring bearer, Brian Arneson, nephew of the bride.

Best man was Jack Burns and ushering duties were assumed by Dick Arneson, Kirt Bledsoe, Tim Boles, and Frank Salinas.

The Rev. Craig S. Jessup officiated at the ceremony.

The newlyweds honeymooned at Disneyland and have made El Cerrito their new home.

Codornices Camp Fire Girls Doll Show Successful

By Katie Bell
7th Grade, Marin School

The girls in the Codornices Council of Camp Fire Girls held their annual doll show at Northbrae Community Church.

The event was especially well attended this year because it was held in honor of Mrs. Barrett coates of Berkeley, a tireless Camp Fire leader and conductor of tours through her huge doll collection for years and years.

Many of the dolls in the show were handmade by Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds for the Needlework Guild. In my opinion, the most spectacular of these was a group of dolls made by Mrs. Dixie Hendrie's fourth graders. Each girl in the group from Marin School made a doll out of white socks and dressed her in a Camp Fire uniform. These dolls, and the many other handmade ones, will be sent to the children at Napa State Hospital.

A lot of the dolls in the show were family heirlooms. There was one with a china head and limbs, and another girl brought her doll in a wooden cradle which had been used by her family for three generations.

There were two wonderful sets of dolls at the show. One of these was the complete group of Japanese Girl's Day Dolls, 15 in all, from the emperor and empress down to their ladies and gentlemen in waiting.

The other set, imported from England, was one of the coronation of King George VI. There were rag dolls of the royal family and numerous dukes and earls. One of the dolls was Princess Elizabeth, who is now Britain's Queen.

Not all of the things in the show were dolls. There was a really neat two-story dollhouse made by a Camp Fire Girl out of shoeboxes. There was also a set of beautiful handmade, hand-painted furniture from Austria.

Lots of the dolls were from foreign countries — Greece, England, Guatemala, and Czechoslovakia, to name a few. The two that I remember best were Arab dolls from Israel. They were much nicer than the Israeli doll, also from Israel.

The high point of the afternoon was when Mrs. Coates, the guest of honor, was presented with gifts from the girls and leaders of the Council. We girls gave her a Camp Fire doll for her collection, and Mrs. Coates also got a leader's scarf and a family of ceramic quail.

Right now, while you are thinking about Camp Fire Girls, I would like to point out that we desperately need leaders. There are hundreds of girls waiting for ladies 21 years of age or older so they can start groups. We need you to lead us! If you are interested in helping, please call the Camp Fire office at 524-7556.

The Mail Bag

Editor, the Times:

The Marin School Playground Improvement Committee began its fund raising campaign with a Flea Market Saturday, April 17. It was a rousing success raising approximately $520 for the project.

The list of people to thank is almost endless. The Student Council with their tremendous bake sale earned $58.26. The Starrons and the Raiders donated a football which was raffled, raising $19.92. Park and Shop Market supplied bags. The Albany Times and Lynn Heffernon helped us publicize the event.

Oothers were the hard-working committee, the children and their posters, everyone who donated their "treasures" and those who worked so hard on Saturday. Special thanks to the Bells, the Berrys, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Marian Bernard, Carol Patterson, Marian Hwang, Jeri Fisher, Mrs. Danner, Mr. and Mrs. Cariss, Mrs. Heffernon, Nancy Smythe, Larry Eaton, Marianne Downham, the Matselbobas, Gail Gillis, Pete Taussig, Clyde Shumway, Helen Ford, Bobbie Whitten, Mrs. Mulera, Mrs. Shiroishi, the four high school boys who moved the tables (Franco Reggi, Chris Bell, Libor Mealinovsky, Norman Sluis) — and anyone else we haven't mentioned.

The Queen contest at one cent a vote netted $9.80 and the winner was "Lassie" Berry.

We are very grateful for success of this event and it is indicative of the type of port the playground project have. This is what we need make Marin playground a tive, fun place to play.
